

"Write Your Story"

(lyrics by Matt Glickstein and Jason Spraggins)

V 1

A half-empty glass- your troubles won't drown.
Embers burn to ashes, and darkness weighs down.
You're a sad silhouette, a ghost of regret-until, you hear a voice sing out...

Chorus

You can write your story
through the pain and glory.
Tomorrow's a blank page,
and you can write your story.
Write your story.

Verse

You're lookin' at the sun and standing on high ground.
Someone is behind you, who stumbled- fell down.
Lonely and torn, they're lost in a storm;
Your song could be what leads them out.

(repeat chorus)

Bridge

Note by note, the lyrics flow toward an end that we can't know.
Beauty's here for us to find-sometimes between the lines.

(repeat chorus)

-Lyrics by Matt Glickstein and Jason Spraggins
-Music by Matt Glickstein