

"Imaginary Friends"

V1

I've noticed a far-away look in your eyes
and heard the cold echoes that sound like goodbyes.
I've clung to your coattails and begged you to stay.
I've helplessly watched as you've drifted away.

V2

I've looked to the sky, and I've asked for a sign.
I've stood at the sea between your world and mine.
And though there are moments when waters may part,
time is relentlessly breaking my heart.

CH

We're Imaginary Friends-
Who needed each other but don't anymore-
Just Imaginary Friends-
We're turning our backs, and we're closing a door.

V3

The day was still young when we met in this dream-
A dream that's now older, that tears at the seams.
A world on my own, I can hardly conceive.
We both deserve more than this forced make-believe.

(Repeat Chorus)

BR:

We're watching our fairy tale come to an end.
What could have been is now lost to the wind.
We know the truth, and cannot pretend to hold on to a life...

CH

As Imaginary Friends-
Who needed each other but don't anymore-
Just Imaginary Friends-
We're turning our backs, and we're closing a door.
Just Imaginary Friends.

-Lyrics by Jason Spraggins, 2011
-Music by Matt Glickstein